

Process Manufacturing – generic qualifications

The generic process manufacturing qualifications or production support certificates, cater for people working in the manufacturing industry and filling vital support roles related to the production of products.

Qualifications:

Certificate I in Process Manufacturing Certificate II in Process Manufacturing Certificate III in Process Manufacturing

These qualifications support development of generic manufacturing production skills for careers as: production assistants, process support operators and assistant operators working in a range of industries. These include:

chemical manufacture
concrete products
polymer processing
composites
clay and ceramic products

tyre manufacture
tyre retreading
cablemaking
belt splicing
glass making

